Updated February 2019

At the Migrant English Project we offer you:

- A welcoming, friendly and safe space where you can meet others and relax.

- Free informal English lessons either one-to-one or in a small group.

- Support and advice about local services. You can talk to us in complete confidence.

- Free refreshments and lunch.

- Help with travel costs if required. Please ask for more information.

The Migrant English Project is run by the students and volunteers.

We are all equal here.

We are independent from the government and all organisations.

We welcome everyone to the project to learn English and also volunteer.

If we are very busy we may ask you to wait awhile until someone is free to talk to you.

However, you will always be welcome here.

If you would like, you are welcome to volunteer as well as, or instead of, taking a lesson.

Volunteering is also a great way to learn English.

For example you could help with:

- translation
- general conversation groups
- cooking lunch, making refreshments and washing up
- organising trips
- welcoming new volunteers and students

The Project is held at the Cowley Club.

The Cowley Club is an autonomous social centre run entirely by volunteers. The club is open as a cafe with bookshop and library to the general public (Wed–Fri 12–4p.m.) and as a private members' bar most evenings and weekends. (You can enquire about membership details at the club). There are also welfare and workers' rights advice and children's activities. <https://cowley.club/>
